Road Trips Australia

Backroads and Byways

By Fuchs Don

Key Sales Points:

- * New title from veteran journalist and author Don Fuchs.
- * The distillation of 25 years exploring the back roads and lesser-known routes of Australia.
- * Most routes suitable for any reasonably robust vehicle.

Publicity:

- * Review copies to all motoring and 4WD organisations, magazines, and other media.
- * Circulars to Australian driving and 4WD clubs.

Australia is the ideal country for adventurous road trips. A gigantic network of roads, many unpaved or back roads, runs through the almost endless expanse. Fascinating national parks relate to country towns; long stretches of coastline, vast forests and large tracts of the outback are accessible. All you need is a sturdy (SUV or 4WD) vehicle, camping gear, navigation skills and a good dose of common sense. And time, of course.

There is, however, no need to always venture to the remotest parts of Australia to have a good time and make discoveries. Some of the road trips suggested in this book find their stage in the more civilised and densely populated parts of the continent. Sometimes the unknown and fascinating is just around the corner. No matter where you venture, there is no better way to shake off the hectic lifestyle of our cities and everyday life in suburbia than on an adventurous trip down the roads less travelled.

Author Bio:

German-born photojournalist Don Fuchs worked for Germany's biggest travel magazine and then spent five years as one of the editors of a mountaineering magazine. Since 1995 he has made Australia his main subject and has travelled the continent extensively. His stories and photographs appear regularly in European, Australian, New Zealand and American magazines such as R.M Williams Outback and Australian Geographic. He is the author and/or photographer of more than ten books, amongst them a book on Australian islands, The Ghan, Australian National Parks, and a trekking guide.

Buddy

The Last Centurion

By Sam Harvey and Illust. by Harv (Paul Harvey)

Key Sales Points:

- * A complete celebration of Australia's greatest modern-day footballer.
- * Includes the rise of Buddy Franklin from his first session on the park at Hawthorn breaking their 200m records to becoming the 6th V/AFL footballer to kick 1000 goals in a season.
- * With 2023 shaping up to be Franklin's final season in the AFL, the book will be a celebration of his final season.
- * Includes cartoons from caricaturist and illustrator Harv (Paul Harvey).

Publicity:

- * Coverage in national newspapers, publications and radio including ABC National, 3AW, SEN, Fox Footy, Channel 7, AFL Live Official App, and AFL Nation.

The name 'Buddy' is synonymous with Lance Franklin. Every Australian rule footy fanatic knows the name 'Buddy' with the name's reverence in Australia akin to 'Pele' in Brazil or 'Magic' Johnson in the States.

Author Bio:

Sam Harvey is a popular sports blogger (Bell At A Goat), podcaster and writer with a keen sports journalistic eye. He has written columns for On Ya Warnie author Ken Piesse's Pavillion magazine and Kyrgios is his first book collaboration.

Illustrator Paul Harvey (Harv) is Sam's dad. Paul Harvey (Harv) is one of Australia's most talented, diverse, and accomplished artists. Based in Melbourne, Australia with his wife and three kids, 'Harv' as he is known is widely celebrated for his work. A cartoonist, caricaturist, illustrator, and author Harv have many strings to his bow. He has had a long working relationship with sporting bodies and turns his hand to everything from designing merchandise and on-field apparel to mascots and club logos

A reclusive celebrity who loves nothing more than staying far away from the limelight, Buddy's brightness shines on the field. Since he passed the magical 100-goal mark in 2008, only two forwards have been able to kick 80 goals or more in the home and away season and the fact that he's also kicked 84 behinds.

In modern Australian Rules Footy, with a full team defence, zoning, and 'intercept' defenders, the one hundred thresholds have become practically impossible.

Will Buddy be the Last Centurion? One may also ask, is Buddy the greatest forward the game has ever seen?

Playing to Win

The Definitive Biography of John Farnham

By Apter Jeff

Key Sales Points:

- * The most in-depth biography of John Farnham - the Voice.
- * The author had access to many who are close to John.

In this deeply personal and insightful biography, author and music industry insider Jeff Apter provides a rare glimpse inside Farnham's world. Thanks to the support of those close to John it's unlike any other book about the man. A family man at heart and the most loyal of friends, John was sometimes uncomfortable with the spotlight and for many years struggled to make his music career as successful as those close to him - including Glenn Wheatley and Molly Meldrum - could see it could be. He finally hit his stride with 1986's Whispering Jack and the breakaway success of You're the Voice, which became the anthem of a generation.

Jeff reveals the drama behind John being named Australian of the Year, how the cassette demo of You're the Voice was nearly overlooked, and how John once accidentally sparked the attention of ASIO. And he explores Farnham's relationships with the figures who have been instrumental in making him The Voice: his first manager, Daryl Sambell; his wife of 40-plus years, Jill; and long-time friend and manager Glenn Wheatley.

Author Bio:

Jeff Apter has written more than 30 books about Australian music and musicians. His subjects include Bon Scott, Daniel Johns, AC/DC's Young brothers, Marc Hunter, Johnny O'Keefe, Jon English, and many others. As a ghost-writer and/or co-writer, Jeff has worked with Kasey Chambers, Richard Clapton, and Mark Evans (formerly of AC/DC) and was on staff at Rolling Stone for several years. Jeff lives on the NSW South Coast with his wife and two children, and enough pets to fill a small zoo.

A Feeling for Nature

A Natural History Memoir - Notes from a Golden Age

By Stanley Breeden and Illust. by Maya Breeden

Key Sales Points:

- * 60 years of Australian natural history observation.
- * Foreword by Bob Brown - Emmy Award winner.

Publicity:

- * ABC radio. * Weekend Australian Review.
- * The Guardian Book Review. * Extensive social media.

If humanity survives, Stan Breeden’s memoir is destined to be a natural classic. For eight decades he has been a peerless observer and chronicler of Earth’s wilds and wildlife. In this book are some of the most poignant accounts of the human affinity with nature that have ever flowed from pen to paper. No one has written it up with finer or easier words to read than these. In his search for meaning our human soul is pivotal. Beyond the reach of deductive science (brain) are feelings (soul) like those experienced lying beneath the giant eucalypts in Tasmania’s Styx Forest, or at Uluru, ‘overpowering in its size, its sheerness, its isolation, its beauty and its silent mystery - a quality never captured in photographs or film.’ ‘Science denies our soul. Art, too busy being provocative, devalues our feelings. The result is a relentless widening of the chasm between people and nature, exacerbating the creeping malaise of the Nature Deficit Disorder.’ When young Breeden gave up on university, he had ‘wanted to feel nature with all my senses, but also with my very being, my soul’. Later, in the dunes of Cooloola, then threatened by sand mining but now protected, he reckoned that ‘if we could just show people the splendourous and seemingly miraculous workings of the natural world, it would become so obvious that nature needed protecting that there would be no need for conflict’. It was a time when we held high hopes that humankind would turn green. How wrong our expectations were. Yet Breeden has persisted as one of the world’s finest presenters of the splendours of nature right through to this new epoch of defiant environmental activism. His presentations through National Geographic, his marvellous books on nature, and his role in establishing Queensland’s Wildlife Preservation Society, speak for themselves. The humble Stan Breeden wants a new Shakespeare to ‘find words - full of drama and imagination - that make nature come alive in our minds.’ We need only read this book.

Author Bio:

Stan Breeden landed in the Australian bush in the middle of the night in May 1952. He was a 14-year-old immigrant from the Netherlands. The next morning, he thought he’d woken in paradise, surrounded as he was by colourful birds and beautiful trees. Stan spent the next 70 years exploring the bush’s wonders. In the process he became one of Australia’s pioneering nature photographers, writers, and filmmakers with many award-winning works to his credit.

Al Capone's Beer Wars

A Complete History of Organized Crime in Chicago during Prohibition

By Binder John J.

Although much has been written about Al Capone, there has not been--until now--a complete history of organized crime in Chicago during Prohibition. This exhaustively researched book covers the entire period from 1920 to 1933. Author John J. Binder, a recognized authority on the history of organized crime in Chicago, discusses all the important bootlegging gangs in the city and the suburbs and examines the other major rackets, such as prostitution, gambling, labour and business racketeering, and narcotics. A major focus is how the Capone gang -- one of twelve major bootlegging mobs in Chicago at the start of Prohibition--gained a virtual monopoly over organized crime in northern Illinois and beyond. Binder also describes the fight by federal and local authorities, as well as citizens' groups, against organized crime. In the process, he refutes numerous myths and misconceptions related to the Capone gang, other criminal groups, the St. Valentine's Day Massacre, and gangland killings. This broad perspective goes well beyond Capone and specific acts of violence and brings to light what was happening elsewhere in Chicagoland and after Capone went to jail. Based on 25 years of research and using many previously unexplored sources, this fascinating account of a bloody and colourful era in Chicago history will become the definitive work on the subject.

The Manuscript

A story of revenge

By Bloom Lucy

Key Sales Points:

- * Set in Sydney, Paris, London, Berlin and Kinshasa in the Congo, The Manuscript is a fast-paced novel that is both entertaining and thought provoking. It has all the Aussie context and whiplash humour of acclaimed television show Rake combined with the style and unexpected violence of Killing Eve.
- * It is a novel about the delicate nature of new relationships, the ruthlessness of karma and the blurry line between truth and fiction.
- * The Manuscript explores the sometimes-disposable nature of modern relationships, divorce, and online dating.

Publicity:

* DM CPR Media has been engaged to handle the publicity and marketing of this title. The author will maximise her social media followers of 30K.

When author, Edith Scott finds herself free in many ways, she switches genre to write a book about war and men.

As she learns hard lessons from the men in her life who chew her up and spit her out, Edith writes them into her plot, killing them off with delight.

But what she does not know is that real life is dealing with them in a parallel reality too brutal for words.

When Bad Things Happen Good Things Can Grow

Survivors' stories of hope from the aftermath of unimaginable trauma, abuse and burns

By O'Neill Susie

Key Sales Points:

- * Compelling, inspirational stories of unimaginable survival from the heart. * "After getting through a tissue box reading the first chapter the pages that followed were simply inspirational." * Scott Eathorn is planning the marketing campaign which will include book launches and events.

Family and home should be a safe space, but sometimes it's where we find the deepest secrets, pain, and heartache. In the remarkable new book, When bad things happen... good things grow, Dr. Susie O'Neill, founder of the KIDS Foundation, has compiled remarkable survivor stories of hope from the aftermath of unimaginable trauma, abuse, and burns. These personal stories from children and adults, told in their own words, show incredible determination to triumph over adversity and showcases the true power of the human spirit. O'Neill, who started the KIDS Foundation to assist children recovering from abuse and trauma, provides an important outlet for these stories to be heard. KIDS Foundation has raised millions of dollars and devotes time and resources to help injury and trauma survivors rebuild their lives, as well as educating children and their families on ways to prevent injuries and trauma.

The Queen at the Cricket

By Harris Kit

Imagine if you had been watching Test cricket, in person, for 66 years.

You'd have seen Mankad taking on Trueman and Laker, Compton and Edrich in their golden summer, and Lindwall and Miller showing off their sublime skills. You'd have watched the typhoon Tyson, the stoic Cowdrey, Dexter and May, the genius of Sobers and the great Indian spinners. You'd have witnessed those great classic batsmen, Richards, Gower and Cook scoring centuries. You'd have seen Hadlee, McGrath, Warne and Anderson steaming in.

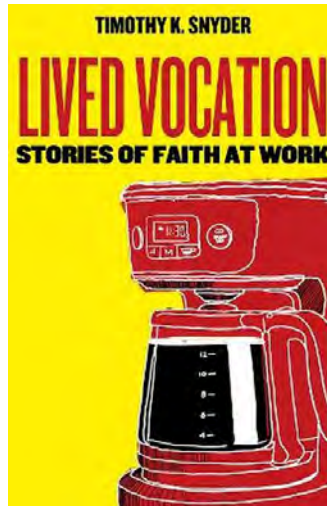

Under her gaze are the famous Englishmen of the 50s, piling on the runs and dominating with spin in perfect home conditions.

Here are the controversies of the 60s: the throwing debate, the lethal pitch at Lords, the banishment of the South African team. Here are the snarling Australians of the 70s, bouncing and bruising their way to the Ashes with Lillee and Thomson unleashed. Here are the wondrous West Indians of the 80s, sweeping all before them.

The Queen witnessed it all - and you can relive every moment as she saw it.

Lived Vocation

Stories of Faith at Work

By Snyder Timothy K.

Lived Vocation is a collection of short reflective essays based on stories of contemporary work. Together these reflections offer a window into the struggle to find meaning at work today. These stories explore how we come to our work and jobs, the hardship and "toil" of our working lives, and the surprisingly small but powerful ways in which God may nonetheless be at work in these stories.

Author Tim Snyder asks: What if vocation were less about being certain that you're following God's master plan for your life and more about noticing the presence of God as we tell our stories from everyday life?

The book challenges congregational leaders to listen to the stories of actual Christians putting their faith into action. It offers ordinary Christians the assurance that they are not alone in their struggle to make sense of faith in everyday life.

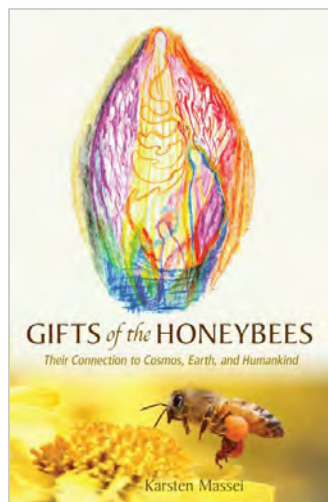

The book provides congregational leaders with an accessible window into the lives of ordinary Christians trying to put their faith into action at work. It helps such leaders empathize with the difficulties of integrating faith in everyday life today and inspires them to listen to and tell more stories of their own.

Dad, Get off your Phone!

By Craig Sheather and Illust. by Annabelle Hale

Key Sales Points:

- * Introduces Lyra, a young nature warrior with a mission to explore with her dad.
- * Packs two solid life lessons into one engaging story.
- * Wonderfully illustrated by a young up-coming Australian artist.

Age Range: 3 years+

Lyra is an active young lady who wants to get out and explore the world - but her father has turned into a Phone Zombie! He spends all his time lying on the couch working... talking... texting... reading... watching sports.

Finally, she persuades him to go for a walk with her in the bush where they see amazing creatures and Dad is gradually converted into a Nature Zombie!

This wholesome tale, hinting at the dangers of the over-use of screens and extolling the benefits of getting out into nature, turns the usual parent-berating-child narrative on its head.

The story thus delights children while at the same time tempting them to follow in Lyra's footsteps.

This is first in an anticipated series of books featuring Lyra and the Wilderness Warriors.

Author Bio:

Craig Sheather is a freelance travel and creative writer from Albury in southern New South Wales. He specialises in lifestyle writing about the outdoors, food and wine, luxury, adventure, and family travel. Craig is married with two cheeky young children, so he has also developed a strong interest in children's books. He has authored two children's books, Sparky the Wonder Puppy and Heroes of Black Summer.

Pippa's Worry Monster (PB)

Danielle Murray and Illust. by Katherine Richardson

Pippa has a monster. Not just any monster... a worry monster. He fills her head with scary thoughts. Woes and worries of different sorts. Sometimes these worries ruin Pippa's day. With a little help from someone special, can Pippa get rid of her worry monster for good? A story of a little girl who learns how to beat her 'worry monster' by using positive self-talk.

"What a delightful book for young children about self-doubt and the positive effects of silencing the 'worry monster'. This sweet story is beautifully illustrated and conveys a powerful message about believing in yourself." -Laura Feldman, Author of Lockdown Baby.

Gunner

Kathryn Berryman and Illust. by Susan Boyle

A black and white puppy starts his day like any other day, playing at the edge of an airfield. It is a clear and bright Darwin morning. A perfect day to explore. But this is no ordinary day. It is the most important day of his life. The day he discovers a special talent. How will he use this talent to help others? The inspiration for this story is based on actual events. With a backdrop of the bombing of Darwin during World War II, Gunner is just another stray dog wandering on the Royal Australian Air Force base looking for scraps of food. The first wave of bombings leads to a traumatic event in the young dog's life, and he is rescued by personnel from No. 2 Squadron. Gunner later discovers a unique talent that helps save many lives, making him an invaluable asset to the R.A.A.F.

Hani & Huda

Philips Ahmad

Hani & Huda is an Islamic comic about a Muslim family of four. A father, mother, son and daughter, and their interactions with each other and the society around them. The comic is centered around seven-year-old Hani and five-year-old Huda. This is meant to help Muslim children learn Islamic values to better develop their relationship with their parents, friends, society, and their Lord. It will inshaAllah educate them on how to respond to everyday challenges of life. Hani and Huda are trying their best to be good Muslims, but they make loads of mistakes along the way. Sometimes they fail tests, use mom's makeup, get in fights with their friends, and more. Thankfully, they have loving parents and helpful friends who help them turn things around and become the best Muslims they can be.

Let Kids Be Kids

Raising Happy, Healthy and Safe Children

By O'Neill Susie

Key Sales Points:

- * A guide for parents to help raise happy, healthy, and safe children.
- * Must read for parents with children getting ready for school.
- * Easy to read parenting tips in raising happy, healthy, and safe children.
- * Scott Eathorn is planning the marketing campaign which will include book launches and events.

What if throwing away the bubble wrap attitude made your child safer? In the new book, Let Kids Be Kids author Susie O'Neill provides a wealth of practical tips that parents and caregivers can do to give children a voice and agency in their own learning. Written by a mum, grandmother, and teacher with 40 years of experience and a devotion to at-risk children, the book explores the important developments which occur in the first five years and how to help them build self-worth, wellbeing, respectful relationships, values, and behaviours that allow them to become responsible risk takers and contributors to our society.

The book covers topics such as:

- * Self-aware behaviour, choices & creating independence,
- * Managing feelings, and emotions – from happy to sad,
- * Goal setting & confidence building,
- * The keys to happy, healthy kids,
- * Navigating safety – from real and perceived dangers to personal safety tips and when bad things happen & includes forewords by Dr Richard Harris & Prof Marilyn Fleer.

Author Bio:

Dr Susie O'Neill is the founder of the KIDS Foundation, an organisation she established in 1993 that helps young people recover from injuries and trauma, as well as preventing them from happening through education and empowerment. She has received numerous awards for her devotion to this field of work. Susie is a mum, nanny, Doctor of Philosophy of Education, and a qualified preschool and primary teacher who has devoted her studies and career to children at risk.
