Road Trips Australia

Backroads and Byways

By Don Fuchs

Key Sales Points:

- * New title from veteran journalist and author Don Fuchs.
- * The distillation of 25 years exploring the back roads and lesser-known routes of Australia.
- * Most routes suitable for any reasonably robust vehicle.

Australia is the ideal country for adventurous road trips. A gigantic network of roads, many unpaved or back roads, runs through the almost endless expanse. Fascinating national parks relate to country towns; long stretches of coastline, vast forests and large tracts of the outback are accessible. All you need is a sturdy (SUV or 4WD) vehicle, camping gear, navigation skills and a good dose of common sense. And time, of course. There is, however, no need to always venture to the remotest parts of Australia to have a good time and make discoveries. Some of the road trips suggested in this book find their stage in the more civilised and densely populated parts of the continent. Sometimes the unknown and fascinating is just around the corner. No matter where you venture, there is no better way to shake off the hectic lifestyle of our cities and everyday life in suburbia than on an adventurous trip down the roads less travelled.

Australian Backyard Birds

By Myke Mollard

Key Sales Points:

- * Companion book to Mykes bestselling Creatures books.
- * Great value hardcover at $24.99.
- * Powerful, vivid drawings are created in a graphic style that's likened to a comic book.

Myke Mollards signature illustrations and engaging text bring kids up close and personal with over 150 of Australia's colourful and characterful backyard birds.

These are birds most commonly seen in our gardens and surrounding bush and parks. The birds are not only beautifully drafted, but the accompanying text also vividly describes their lifestyles and habits.

The wonderment of these stunning creatures, delivered in an engaging cinematic punch, will excite the imaginations of children for life, and fully engage any adult with a love of birds.

Author Bio:

Myke Mollard is a children's educator, illustrator, author and designer – just some of his creative talents. He began his career in graphic design, branding management and producing commercials for TV. He later found outlets for his passion for educating kids about the world around them, both in person in classroom and online settings, and via his books which he fully writes and illustrates himself. One of his first books, in 2008, was the best-selling A-Z of Australian Bush Creatures which sold 85,000 copies in the early 2010s. He is also the author of Australia's Dangerous Creatures, Australia's Endangered Creatures and Australian Dinosaurs and Mega Beasts.

Backyard Birds

In over two centuries Australia's population has grown dramatically. With the growth of the 'Rustic dream' our New Mills, expanded and surrounded our cities and township creating homes, businesses and other buildings. While this urban development has made this country one of the most livable places on earth, as we have pushed out into the wider spaces surrounding cities, we have removed habitats and often displaced the native fauna, creating very different ecosystems. Along the way we did create green corridors, parks and gardens. Interspersed amongst the concrete, we have often replanted and restored native landscapes and our cultural practices to design entertaining and aesthetically pleasing spaces for birds to return to. Some birds thrive in our cities and frequent our homes.

Ingenious nature has not only become used to humans and human environments, but many are pushing through. They use our buildings to nest and roost. They forage for grubs and worms, spiders and insects in our vegetable gardens. After seasonal rain they bubble in our water buckets, gutters, fountains and bird baths.

Life takes its own course hidden just out of sight. The presence of our cities and through the night they fly on the dark. They look for insects, worms, spiders, ants, bees and other small creatures, among them and amongst themselves. They have their own strange and useful benefits to be seen by the birds themselves. It doesn't take much to walk with nature, and the excitement of watching and listening to the birds and insects. It's a sense of peace. The world is a happy and functional relationship with the world around you.

No one is to blame and we are not victims. We are the victims of our own creation. Backyard birds, they are the all-around citizens that frequent your backyard.

So, no one is to blame and we are not victims. We are the victims of our own creation. Backyard birds, they are the all-around citizens that frequent your backyard.

Shirley's Story
A Tale of Strength, Courage, and Hope*By Emily EklundKey Sales Points:

- * The story from Shirley Singh about the murder of three of her children, and death of her fourth, in her own words as told to Emily Eklund Power.
- * A true crime story that took a decade to bring the murderer to justice.
- * Also based on accounts from police, detectives, and Court records.

From the oppressed shores of India to a racially charged Fiji, her mother's death at her birth, early adoption, marital abuse, military takeover, and move to Australia, Shirley had already overcome a life of adversity when she was subjected to a nightmare no mother should endure. On April 22, 2003, three of Shirley's children, Neelma, Kunal, and Sidhi, were found murdered, submerged in the spa bath of their home in an affluent Australian suburb. In a crime that gripped the nation, Shirley and her husband, Vijay, faced accusations of domestic violence, molestation, affairs, prostitution, and bad business deals. This is Shirley's Story, a tale of strength, courage and hope as told to Emily Eklund Power.

AUD$: 34.99Mr Todd's Marvel
How one man telegraphed Australia to the modern world*By Adam CourtenayKey Sales Points:

- * Draws from many historical documents in the keeping of the Todd Family.
- * Written by popular Australia history writer Adam Courtenay.

In 1855 talented astronomer and scientist Charles Todd had a dream to build a telegraph line across Australia to connect it to the world. This dream was a bold one and he would have to wait for technological advances to catch up with his ideas.

By 1870, however, Singapore and Indonesia were joined to the worlds growing telegraph network and it was Australia's turn. Todd and his men would have to erect thousands of telegraph poles across the entire expanse of the country, from Adelaide to the northern coast - one pole every 80 metres - across land that was relentlessly inhospitable and largely unknown to them.

They overcame every obstacle and, as well as reducing the transmission of information to the country from months to hours, revealed the splendour of the continent's interior to its rapidly growing population. This is their story.

Adventures in Climate Science
Scientists' tales from the frontiers of climate change
Foreword by Karl Kruszelnicki

By Wendy Bruere, Karl Kruszelnicki

Key Sales Points:

- * Combines science with story-telling—and a good dose of adventure.
- * Of particular interest to high school and undergraduate students considering a career climate science.
- * Authors paint evocative pictures of working in some of the world's most remote and remarkable places.

The experts tell us the world is warming, but why do we care so much about a few lousy degrees? These tales of adventure from remote and remarkable parts of the Earth explore a multitude of ways the world is changing and explain the science behind exactly what those few degrees mean. Scientists share their own stories about falling into crevasses, facing sharks, surviving cyclones, chasing pirates on the high seas, and more. Along the way, they examine critical elements of climate change, including sea ice and glacier melt, rising sea levels and more. Featuring a foreword from Dr Karl Kruszelnicki.

Chasing the Dragon

The Life and Death of Marc Hunter

By Jeff Apter

He had it all: the heroin chic thing before it was chic, the scars, the swagger, an incredible stage presence. After bursting on to the Australian music scene in 1975, Dragon fast developed a reputation for both hard rocking and hard living. As the highly visible and charismatic lead singer, Marc Hunter was the voice behind such timeless hits as 'April Sun in Cuba', 'Are You Old Enough?' and 'Rain'. Yet Hunter was also a maverick whose destructive genius and serious heroin addiction led to a turbulent relationship with his bandmates, including older brother Todd. And it contributed to his early death at just 44. Originally published in 2011, this intimate portrait was written with full co-operation from Marc's mother Voi and his brother and former bandmate Todd, as well as contributions from many high-profile Australian music personalities.

ADHD an A-Z

Figuring it Out Step by Step

By Leanne Maskell

Navigating the world with an ADHD brain can be exhausting. The rollercoaster ride from clinical assessments through diagnosis to treatment can leave you feeling anxious and isolated, worried about failing or feeling different. This handy guide is here to change all that. If you have (or suspect you have) ADHD, you'll know the frustration of being given neurotypical or clinical advice - but this is straight from an ADHD brain to you. The accessible A-Z format, covering everything from burnout and finances to time management and relationships, gives you the tips and confidence you need to reach your full potential. It empowers you to understand why ADHD brains work the way they do and how to harness your unique mind to think creatively and overcome any hurdle life throws at you.
